Bartlett Pact Is Approved

Agreement Takes Effect Thursday, Runs 4 Years

A marketing agreement for Bartlett pears to take effect Thursday and extend to January 1, 1942, has been approved by A. A. Brock, state director of agriculture.

The marketing order contains provisions for the establishing grade and size limitations under which fresh Bartlett pears may be shipped.

The pact also provides for an advertising fund, estimated to total $75,000 the first year, through the assessment of three cents on each standard box of fresh pears packed for market.

Brock said all processors and distributors are subject to the order. He said the marketing order had been approved in writing by distributors and processors handling more than 65 per cent of the volume of fresh pears, and by more than two-thirds of the producers who grow 65 per cent of the state's pears for market.

The order includes the appointment of an advisory board of 10 members, consisting of five producers and five handlers. They receive no salary and serve one year, assisting Brock in administering the marketing act.

Brock said: "We believe the quality of fresh Bartlett pears offered for sale within California might be improved and that producers and distributors, through an advertising and promotion fund, might create new and larger markets for California-grown pears."

3 More Steel Plants Open

Washington Hints Breach Between Roosevelt, Lewis

By UNITED PRESS

A back to work movement in the steel area gained another step today with the reopening of three Republic plants in the vicinity of Cleveland, O., as suggestions of conflict between John L. Lewis, sponsor of the six weeks old steel strike, and President Roosevelt, appeared in Washington.

Lewis declined to comment on the latter suggestion. However, week-end developments seemed to point to possible change in the administration's labor views. These included:

1.—An open letter from Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins to Rep. J. William Ditter, R., Pa., in which she, for the first time, sharply condemned sit down strikes as illegal and "unsuited" to the American worker. The sit down has been employed by C. I. O. unions, particularly in the auto field.

2.—A speech by Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper, in which he said: "The people will not long patiently forbear unnecessary strife and disturbance no matter by whom provoked."

3.—A recent assertion by President Roosevelt that the public regards actions by extremists in both the C. I. O. and "little steel" operators in the light of "a plague on both your houses."

5 Drivers Cited In Week-end

"Considering the amount of traffic, we had very little trouble getting the cars through town," City Officer D. W. LeBourveau reported Tuesday morning.

"Bevo" said there were only five citations issued over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Waldron and family and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grady and daughter, Carolyn, were July 4th visitors at Tahoe.

Folsom at Loomis
Roseville at Auburn
Lincoln bye

The Bartlets lost an 8 to 2 battle with Folsom in their final appearance of the regular schedule on the home field Sunday in a game which, judging by reports, was a plain case of too much Folsom.

The result of the day's games and forfeits left the Bartlets, Auburn and Folsom in a three-way tie for the top of the ladder with "Scoop" Thurman and his Colfaxers in fourth position.

Next Sunday's battles close the regular schedule and, according to plans announced earlier in the year, the next order of business will be a four-club playoff for the league's championship.

COLFAX TAKES ROSEVILLE IN RALLY

COLFAX—Staging a thrilling ninth inning rally, the Colfax Lions defeated the Roseville Tigers 8 to 7, Sunday to remain in the pennant race one game ahead of the Roseville club. The game was hard fought throughout with the Tigers taking an early 5 to 1 lead only to lose it in the fourth when the Lions scored four runs. Roseville tied up the score in the fifth and in the first half of the ninth the visitors scored twice to take the lead 7 to 5. In the last half of the ninth, Lefty Rogers, Sacramento youth beat out a well placed bunt for a hit while Glenn Smith another Sacramento member of the team hit a single to left field. Henry Hawk, first baseman, then hit a line drive to deep center field for a home run to win the game for Colfax. Cliff Perry, of the locals, made a sensational one handed catch of a fly ball in deep short for the feature play of the game. The score:

Colfax	8	45	3
Roseville	7	12	1

Batteries—Brock, Kelly and Simmons; Maciel and Lial.

YOUTH TRAPPED ON FACE OF CLIFF

YOSEMITE (UP)—Spurred by faint cries for help, four Yosemite Valley rangers today scaled the steep slopes of Glacier Point in an attempt to rescue Edward Fleischer of Berkeley, believed marooned on a small rock ledge on the side of a sheer cliff.

Throughout the night persons in the valley heard weak, echoing shouts for help apparently coming from the west slope of Glacier Point.

Searchers could only guess which route the youth followed when he started on a hike yesterday with his father, Paul S. Fleischer. Owing to the ruggedness of the mountain and lack of trails, rangers were unable to start the rescue attempt until dawn.

The pair separated yesterday when the youth left his father to attempt to scale a cliff.

Miss Florence Cleary was among those who sought vacation at Tahoe for the week-end.

Road Improvement

In co-operation with the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, as a part of their nation-wide traffic survey, Eldorado Forest staff, assisted by enrollees of Snowline CCC camp made a week-end traffic survey on the Pony Express Route which shows that 9,123 cars passed a given point and were actually enumerated during a portion of the week-end.

How many passed that point when no count was being taken can only be guessed.

We do not know what the Bureau of Public Roads may have had in mind in making the nation-wide traffic survey, but one thing El Dorado County road boosters do know and that is that the route survey has given proof which it will be difficult to deny that U. S. Route 50 through El Dorado County is carrying a much heavier traffic than the road was built to carry.

The survey gives support to our contention that we need a new highway between Placerville and Sacramento and need it badly.

While it is true that the survey was taken at what will probably be the peak of summer week-end travel, it is equally true that El Dorado County deserves a road which will carry the peak of the travel at whatever time the peak may come.

A glaring series of accidents, incident to the week-end, lends further emphasis to the need for a modern road.

The survey speaks for itself. When do we get that road?

SLAYER OF 3 GUARDED

Inglewood Fiend Admits Guilt In Horrible Crime

By ALAN McELWAIN

United Press Staff Correspondent
LOS ANGELES (UP)—Lynch threats shouted by fellow prisoners caused Albert Dyer, who confessed he strangled three little girls and ravished their bodies, to be hustled today into the center of a tier of seven empty cells of the county jail.

Dyer was placed in a blocked off section of the "high power" tank reserved for prisoners who may try to escape, or against whom there has been threats. Three cells on each side of his were vacant.

Jailers said they acted because of the other prisoners' threats, although there was a report of an anonymous tip that Inglewood citizens planned to organize a "lynch party" and march on the jail.

Dyer was rushed to the skyscraper county jail here Sunday night when mob fury in the suburb rose dangerously. A few hours later two thousand men surged about the town jail and dispersed only when three spokesmen were permitted to go inside and see for themselves that he had left.

JULY 4 PICNIC DRAWS THROG TO FAIRPLAY

The fourth annual July 4 picnic of Sierra Nevada Post No. 2680, V. F. W., held Sunday at the Fairplay-Aukum hall, drew a large gathering and was a success in every way.

The day was spent in a program of exercises during which State Master George Sehmeyer of the Grange, spoke, and at games, races and other contests.

Music for dancing was provided in the afternoon and evening by Red's Rhythm Rascals.

Dr. Banks To Visit City On Wednesday

In the interests of the well baby clinic, Dr. Emmeline Banks, of the state health department, will pay her regular visit to Placerville on Wednesday, July 7. Those wishing to contact the doctor may do so as usual, by contacting Mrs. Irene Larsen, the grammar school nurse.

Dr. Schneider Joins Lions Club

Cub Lion of the Placerville Den is Dr. William B. Schneider, who was inducted as a member of the club at their meeting Tuesday noon at Hotel Raffles. Other business of the day included the announcement of committee appointments as previously published.

Increasing Fire Danger Seen

Increasing danger of forest fires during the next few days is seen by the U. S. Weather Bureau in a forecast delivered Tuesday morning to Eldorado Forest headquarters.

The forecast says: "Warmer, lower humidity, gentle to moderate changeable winds mostly north to east nights, north to west days. Increasing fire danger next few days."

589 Killed In Celebration

305 Meet Death In Traffic; 143 Are Drowned

By UNITED PRESS

The "safest and sanest" Independence Day celebration in years was recorded today on police and coroner's records.

A nation-wide United Press Survey showed approximately 589 violent deaths during the three-day celebration. The toll was expected to approach 650 with deaths of many of those injured, and with filing of reports from outlying districts. National Safety Council statisticians had anticipated 900 deaths, on basis of 1936 figures.

Reports showed: drownings, 143; traffic, 305; fireworks, 5; and miscellaneous, 136.

Coroner and police officials said traffic, health and fireworks campaigns, through newspapers, were responsible for most of the reduction. Rainy weather which dampened celebrations in some sections of the country, reduced highway traffic, and discouraged swimming and boating, aided.

COURT PLAN IS AIRED BEFORE SENATE

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson today moved in the Senate to begin consideration of President Roosevelt's judicial program, first proposed just five months ago.

After hearing a warning by Robinson that he intended to employ stern tactics against any filibuster tactics, the Senate agreed without record vote to proceed to immediate consideration of the measure.

Robinson's move signaled start of formal consideration of the controversial subject after weeks of public debate and judiciary committee hearings which culminated in an adverse report June 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Thomas of Placerville, are the parents of a son born Saturday at a Sacramento hospital.

Traffic Count At Snowline Tabulates 9,123 Autos

Need For Improved Highway Shown By Survey Conducted By Forest Service For Federal Bureau

Approximately 10,000 automobiles passed through Placerville over the Fourth of July week-end, most of them enroute to resorts and summer homes and camp grounds in the American River Canyon and at Lake Tahoe.

Counting an average of three to a car, and that figure, it is believed, would be conservative, a community of 30,000 people moved through Placerville during the week-end. Thousands of others found Tahoe destinations by other routes.

EARHART SENDS "SOS" APPEAL

Gives Location As 281 Miles Off Howland Island

HONOLULU (UP)—The coast guard disclosed at 9:45 a. m., P. S. T., it was "checking a report the mainland had picked up a new distress message from Amelia Earhart."

SOS REPORTED

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Charles McGill, Oakland radio amateur, reported today he picked up at 6:35 a. m. P. S. T., a faded voice message on the band of Amelia Earhart's missing plane saying:

"NRUI — KHAQQ, KHQQ — SOS, SOS, SOS—KHAQQ."
"281 North Howland."
"Cannot hold out much longer."
"Drifting slowly northwest."
"We above water. Motor sinking in water. Very wet."

Miss Earhart's despairing husband, George Putnam, said he placed "fair credence" in the authenticity of the message McGill picked up.

Coast guard headquarters, however, were skeptical.

McGill said this morning's message was in a faint voice. He was unable to say whether it was a man's voice or a woman's voice.

"It was too faint and came widely interspersed over the carrier of 31.05, one of Miss Earhart's bands."

SEARCH COSTLY

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States government is spending an estimated $250,000 a day in the search for Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan, a survey of navy and coast guard activities showed today.

More than a half dozen warships, scores of airplanes and thousands of navy officers and men are engaged in actual searching operations.

MAY TRAFFIC REPORT IS FILED

According to a report compiled Tuesday morning by City Officer D. W. LeBourveau, during the month of May there were eleven major traffic citations issued in the city and in all cases except one, conviction was obtained.

There were also 36 tags issued for minor traffic infractions and these resulted in 35 convictions.

CHECK PASSER IS GIVEN TERM IN FOLSOM

W. H. Wright, 57, who pleaded guilty to a charge of issuing a worthless check, was sentenced in Superior Court Tuesday morning to Folsom prison for the term prescribed by law—one to 14 years.

Wright, said to have served a prior term in prison, admitted issuing a check in the amount of $25.25, for which he had no funds.

Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis officiated Tuesday morning at a ceremony which united in marriage Ernest Ivan Butolph, of Corvallis, Oregon, and Goldie J. M. Harnar, of Salem, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Reeg spent Monday on a tour over Tioga pass.

The figure of 10,000 cars is also conservative, it is believed, for an actual count of the traffic made during the week-end at Snowline CCC camp by the forest service in co-operation with the Bureau of Public Roads, tabulated 9,123 cars.

The survey was started at 6 a. m. on Friday, July 2, and was stopped at 10 p. m. that night. The count for this period was 1,523 cars.

Taking up again at midnight on July 2, the survey counted an additional 3,658 cars until midnight of July 3 in a 24-hour count.

Beginning again at midnight of July 3 and continuing until midnight of July 4, there were 3,942 cars enumerated.

This ended the survey and since there was no count of traffic on July 5, it is readily apparent that to say that 10,000 cars passed over the road is conservative almost in the extreme.

What the count might have shown had the survey been continued through July 5 is indicated in a report from (Turn to Page 4)

3 In Hospital For Injuries

Crashes Numerous As Traffic Sets Record Total

Despite a number of crashes which damaged cars to varying degrees of uselessness, there remained Tuesday morning but three patients at Placerville Sanatorium as a result of week-end auto wrecks.

Probably the most seriously hurt of these was Miss Janice Davies of Sacramento, who had planned to wed Saturday at Reno. Miss Davies' plans were interrupted when the car in which she was riding with her fiancé, Marvin Barrett, plunged off the road above Whitehall and she suffered a pelvic fracture.

The other two patients are Mrs. Margaret Pillatti, under treatment for rib and back injuries, and Miss Lillian White, under treatment for leg and chest injuries. They were hurt Sunday when the car in which they were riding rolled off the road in the Aukum district.

Crashes along the road from Placerville to Tahoe came with such regularity that for a time a wrecking car was stationed at Kyburz in order that it might more quickly reach the spot where help was needed and clear the road with a minimum of traffic delay.

Saturday night a Miss Cummings of Crockett, and a Mr. Bennett and one other, of San Francisco, turned over near Fresh Pond. All escaped serious injury.

Sunday morning about 4 o'clock there was another wreck in which Marilyn Trumley, Alvin Jensen and O. H. Carlson, all of Stockton, were cut and bruised.

Tuesday morning a car driven by C. V. Davier of Alameda, ran into a truck driven by Joe Defazio of Sacramento, near the Gardella service station and Mrs. Davier suffered minor cuts.

Later in the afternoon, Placerville Sanatorium treated Mrs. F. L. Thrift, of San Francisco, for cuts and bruises. Plans of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hamilton of Camino, for a vacation visit to Los Angeles were interrupted Saturday afternoon when they figured in a crash near Lockeford.

Train Your Hands to Be Graceful and Lovely, Too

By JACQUELINE HUNT

NEARLY every girl has one attractive feature which stands out above all the others. It may be her eyes, her figure, her hair or her voice. I know one girl with very little claim to beauty, either of face or figure who made herself attractive simply by the way she used her hands.

They were not particularly beautiful, but the fingers were long and fairly slender. One day a manicurist used a particularly lovely deep shade of polish on her nails. She was so pleased with the effect that she began studying her hands to see how they looked in various poses and with varied gestures. Before long she discovered that she had a real gift for expression through her hands.

MISS HUNT

"I'm going to make people watch my hands instead of my face, when I talk," she decided. "They're better to look at and certainly make a better impression."

She gave them special exercises to develop their grace and flexibility. She used a hand cream at least once a day, in addition to a lotion, to soften the skin and keep it clear and smooth. She was always as careful about using the right shade of polish as most women are about choosing the right color for their costumes.

She was so particular about her nails that she did all of her own manicuring. Before long, people stopped saying, "Oh, yes, she's a nice girl," and said enthusiastically, "She's the girl with the fascinating hands!"

Hands that are nicely shaped may quickly become really beautiful. Even plain hands can be made expressive. Exercise creates suppleness and you can train yourself to use graceful gestures by watching an actress on the stage or your favorite movie star. You will find they depend much on the hands to convey their feelings. Practice is needed to make your own gestures natural and unaffected. Exaggerated hand movements are silly and unlovely.

Experiment with different shades of nail polish until you find one that gives your hands the right accent and shows them off to advantage. Soft rust and coral shades are flattering to certain types of skin, while others look best in the rose, mauve or deeper tones of blue.

Keep the nails immaculate at all times. Work a little hand cream into your hands and arms each time you go out into the sun, to guard them against the rough, weathered look they are so likely to acquire in the summer.

A good cream will form a protective film, also to be used when you are bathing in salt water. Cuticles which look whitish and puffy after ten or fifteen minutes in the water should be protected with a little nail cream or cuticle oil. Spread it over your nails, too, if you want to add life to your nail polish.

Remember, hands that are used have far more character than hands which are helpless. Exercises will give them sureness and poise. A good one is to clasp the hands and press them together a tightly as you can. With the hands still clasped, turn them so the knuckles are up, wrists down and arms forming a single line from elbow to elbow.

Now raise the elbows, exerting pressure against the clasped fingers. Extend the arms in front of you, palms outward, fingers still clasped together. Repeat several times.

"DRAEGERMAN" MUST PASS RIGID TEST

Actors on the set of "Draegerman Courage," the first National picture which comes to the Empire Theatre tonight, wondered why the rescue crew in a mine disaster were called "Draegermen," though it was evident that the name in some way signified self-effacing bravery—the sort of courage which is totally divorced from all but the welfare of some comrade in distress. For of such dauntless action in time of extreme danger is this picture made. All possible ways of finding out the truth about the meaning of the word were tried except the obvious one.

Barton MacLane, who portrays a Draegerman in the picture, became so curious that he went to the studio research department and thumbed through several encyclopedias. He found no reference to them but he did see a note on a certain Dr. Draeger, a German, who invented rescue equipment for mine disasters.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
 (United Press Staff Writer)

BOSTON (UP)—As the days pass this life becomes more and more complex for this blue-eyed observer of the sports scene.

Here it is in the middle of summer, with the temperature over a hundred in the sun, and who in the world do you think I bumped into but Art Ross, manager of the Boston Bruins hockey team.

Hockey is the game that belongs to those days when snow crunches underfoot, the wind plies up and down and around the overcoat, and one hates to go to bed because of those cold, cold sheets.

I met Mister Ross on Hollis street where he was buying Independence Day fireworks as any loyal Canadian would. He invited me to his summer home at Green Harbor, assuring me that there would be plenty of ice and that someone undoubtedly would get a skate on.

So I went, and just at twelve midnight when Edgar Allen Poe stuck his head over the transom and said "Raven" I found myself in the midst of a robust hockey argument in which Cooney Wieland maintained that referees always have been wrong in their interpretation of the forward-pass rule. I defended the referee until it was discovered that he was talking about hockey and I was thinking about football.

Wieland, if you have forgotten, is 145 pound center-ice man of the Bruins. I finally put Wieland in his place with a deft pokecheck and turned on Ross who was over in the corner trying to explain to Mrs. Ross why he had asked me out there.

MODERATION STRESSED

TORONTO, Ont. (UP)—The only recipe for longevity and happiness is "moderation," Russell C. McCaughan, executive secretary of the American Osteopathic Association, told delegates attending the Ontario Academy of Osteopathy convention here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph August and family of Berkeley, Miss Gwendoline Michaelis of Martinez and Mr. Richard Calaf of Berkeley, were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chesmore.

"Mister Ross," I said, "why don't you hockey people speed up your game by using one man less or by widening the playing surface?"

"We have thought about that," Ross replied, "because it would save us five or six thousand dollars a year. That's what we pay the average player. We decided not to do it when common sense told us that it would ruin the game."

Far be it from me even with seven lemons under my waistcoat to dispute Arthur Jerusalem Ross, one of the greatest players and managers the sport ever knew. But I did ask him one more question and the question was this:

"In all your years in hockey who was the greatest player you ever saw on skates?"

The man didn't even think a total of one-half second. He just sort of gave a look as if to say "don't you know?" and replied:

"Shore. Eddie Shore. He could do everything just a little bit better than anybody else."

At this point desire to launch a canoe struck me without warning. And, an honest confession being good for the soul the next thing I knew I was Adam's apple deep in Massachusetts Bay. No one thought anything about it until they noticed that I had no canoe and was fully dressed.

I was in the vicious arms of an undertow and might well have been carried off the grand banks had not a beachcomber named A. Linde Fowler laid down his comb and rescued me.

For the benefit of those gentlemen who each year award the Carnegie medal for bravery, Mr. Fowler's address is Pinehurst, North Carolina, and he wears a six seven medal.

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Dr. Chrisman Warns of July 4 Disasters; Condemns Fireworks, Urges "Sane Fourth"

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

TWENTY years ago, I dreaded the 4th of July more than any other holiday. In the days when all kinds of fireworks were sold, giant firecrackers, toy cannons, Roman candles and skyrockets made a terrific din from dawn to midnight. I suppose parents thought it was a dreadful but the poor neighborhood doctor knew it was an inferno for him.

The fire departments also regarded it as a day of terror, and were glad if no major fires occurred. The doctor had to prepare beforehand to treat burns, shattered fingers, broken hands, eyes full of powder and shot and penetrating wounds from burst cannon and exploding crackers. He could not go to a picnic or on a visit. He had to stay home and work, and often get little enough pay for it because those who were hurt had spent all their money for fireworks.

Now things are better. Most cities have wisely forbidden the sale of explosives in the city limits, but often they can be purchased just outside the line; even there the large pieces cannot be obtained. But there are still many accidents due to explosives.

Last year, I had a man, who knew better, who built a cannon out of a piece of gas pipe and filled it with powder. He had two small children, too small to know what it was all about. They were standing a few feet away when the thing exploded. Both children might have been killed but instead a piece of gas pipe struck the man on his right elbow, shattering the bones in half a dozen places. Pieces of metal imbedded in the tissues.

Several hours of work and tetanus antitoxin saved him from lockjaw and amputation. But his right arm is still stiff at the elbow. He is an auto mechanic and after six months he learned to use his left hand fairly well. He is working at his trade, but he will never have good use of his right arm. He suffers all this just to make a noise.

Explosives are fewer now but we have automobiles and boats; we go to picnics and swimming parties. Some few things we must remember. Any penetrating wound, in which air cannot reach the bottom, or into which road dirt or any soil has been ground should be treated by thorough cleaning followed by an injection of antitetanus serum.

Don't wait to see how the wound heals. Lock jaw may not develop for a week or longer, but after it occurs we have no reliable remedy. Prevention is the only treatment.

Burns are perhaps the most frequent cause of trouble. A simple remedy for burns of all degrees is to cover with cloths wrung from a strong solution of common tea, or a tannic acid solution. Any oil, baking soda, butter or lard provide a good emergency dressing.

Mashed fingers, contusions from baseballs or golf clubs should be thoroughly washed and painted with tincture of iodine and covered with a clean dressing. Broken bones should be left alone until skilled help can be reached.

Use only enough dressing to prevent movement of the broken fragments.

TUOLUMNE CITY FIRE DAMAGE $15,000

SONORA (UP)—Fire, started by an exploding water heater in the Tuolumne Inn, destroyed five Tuolumne City business establishments, late yesterday.

Volunteer firemen and Civilian Conservation Corps workers assisted department firemen in keeping the flames from sweeping the entire business area but they were unable to save the Inn, a barber shop, liquor store, club and the Harvard hotel.

Damage was estimated at $15,000.

SECURITIES ACT INDICTMENT UNDER FIRE

Counsel for J. H. Rosenberger and Joseph Murphy, charged with violating the state corporate securities act in an indictment resulting from the recent special grand jury meeting, on Tuesday attacked the indictment in an effort to have it quashed.

The indictment charges the two dealt in stocks for which they had no permit from the state corporation commissioner.

Defense counsel argue that there was no illegality in the transaction. At this writing the court was still hearing arguments.

Rudolph Volz was a holiday visitor at Lake Tahoe.
